NOTICE TO CONSIGNEES.

THE PENINSULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY'S STEAMER SUNDA.

FROM BOMBAY, COLOMBO AND STRATS.

CONSIGNEES of Cargo by the above-named Vessel are hereby informed that their Goods are being landed and placed at their risk in the HONGKONG AND KOWLOON WHARF AND GODOWN COMPANY'S Godowns at Kowloon, where each consignee will be sent by the steamer to collect his Goods and to be paid for the same.

Captain Grahn, who has been three years in charge of the Sunda, has been in charge of the Sundam for the past year.

What about the arrest, Captain?

Finally asked our reporter.

"I don't think the ship can be arrested," replied he. "We have given bail."

Mr Hauser, intervening, said that the owners of the vessel had given £30,000 bail in London. They had been in telegraphic communication, and he expected the vessel would be released by this evening or tomorrow.

We hope to weigh anchor to-morrow afternoon for Vladivostok," were the Captain's last words as he proceeded to go ashore.

The Sunda arrived with a mixed cargo,
which ship is due to leave.

Our Court's report has ascertained that there is every probability that the s.s. Sunda will be released on bail to-morrow. A telegram has been despatched to the London Agents of this vessel, and the letter is expected to tender bail to the agents in London. The Sunda will be released covering the amount of the claim—£30,000 and costs, and instructions are expected to be sent to Mr Walter Pereira's clients to confer to the release of the s.s. Sunda, after that is done. Mr Pereira will probably make a further application to the Commissioner of the s.s. Sunda, and when the Commission returns—when will be for at least a couple of years, considering all the necessary witnesses are scattered over the globe—the Supreme Court will give its decision on the claim.
The final inquiry is, therefore, very distant.

What about the arrest, Captain?

THE JAPANESE IN FORMOSA.

Dr Goto's Manifesto.

The following is a translation of a manifesto by Dr S. Goto (Civil Governor of Formosa) circulated among the officials, literati, gentry and people of Fuzhou Province in April, 1900:

THE POSITION OF JAPAN.

This subject has been deeply considered by me. I am bound to say that I do not think China would find Japan an attractive market for all her products. On the other hand, the Japanese have been extremely active in encouraging industries, setting up factories, and in every way trying to foster a flourishing trade. Take piece goods (Japanese). We must go outside to find a market for these, and China is the only place available, because those of Europe and America offer no inducements. China, on the contrary, offers a good field, many parts of which have not as yet been opened. All our manufactured products have the advantage of being exactly those required by China with her people, allied in kinship to ours, and her territory in such close proximity to Japan. China is not alone interested in taking precautions against the aggressions and encroachments of those outside covetous nations; Japan is equally concerned. Should China, however, get under the power of one of these nations, then nothing but commercial disaster must follow as it cannot be doubted that such Power would do all that it could to favour and encourage its own interests and its own products. The Chinese and protective tariff against those of all outsiders that we may take for granted, wouldнически, end, in such a contingency, Japan also would suffer great loss. In this last connection it is not unlikely that commodities (foreign) originally brought to China may enter Japan, compete with her own manufactures, and thus deprive her people of their livelihood, and defeat the object which the Japanese desire to obtain. America and Great Britain are always advocating the "open door" policy for China. Let this be well pondered over. To some extent the results of such policy would be for China and Japan; and yet there would be a difference in the fact that the former injury to China might not be apparent, but the consequences to Japan would be exceedingly serious indeed, so that I could attempt to discuss the single glance. In this policy there is great danger to the state; hence it becomes a peremptory obligation and duty for Japan to be a protector over China. As a first step, Japan must negotiate an alliance with China, having for its object the defense of general interests. Beyond working for the welfare of China, Japan has no ulterior motives, but it is necessary that this should be defined so that there may be no suspicion or doubt in the matter (of China's part) and, above all, it must be clearly proved to be free from all improper interests or jealousy. The intimacy and connection between the two Nations must be very close, more so than has been before. In order to do this out, a clever energetic man of great responsibility, perfectly posted as to the trade requirements and capacities of both countries, must be appointed. He would have to be very fair, and gain knowledge of our ones, and so should visit China and there make a study of his subjects, or, if preferred, an honest Chinese merchant might be selected to study trade matters in both countries. It is essential that perfect integrity of intercourse be secured. In Japan, now-a-days, Chinese are the subjects of special care and consideration, but, in Japan, up to a late date, there has been an unnecessary but genuine fear of Europe and America. We have also treated Chinese with some politeness, and a want of consideration, notwithstanding that our national instincts are all in favor of helping the weak and destroying the oppressors. Such actions, however, are, obviously, inconsistent with each other. Although Japanese as business men, are very energetic, still our Government who do not care to interfere in any way for the welfare of China, might be selected as Attorney General, Mr Nathan has always shown a marked spirit of independence, coupled with honesty of purpose in the discharge of his official duties—a result of which, he has succeeded beyond a doubt in gaining the esteem and respect of everyone in the community; and it is an admitted fact that while he never cared for popularity, he will leave the Colony the most respected among a large circle of high officials, as well as the most popular. Attorney General we have had. Socially, Mr Nathan is equally highly esteemed in all circles; and we can assure him that he leaves behind many good friends, especially among the circles.

EYE-SIGHT.

Mr. N. LAZARUS,
Optician, of London and Calcutta
may be consulted for SPECTACLES at 16, Queen's Road Central,
(R. HOUGHTON & Co.).

(Nearly opposite the Honkong Hotel).
Business Hours: 8 A.M. to 9 P.M. to 5 P.M.

A great proportion of catarrhs and diseases affecting those advancing in life occur to those having some deficiency in the construction of the eye—the many years of 'Eye Strain' existing in serious forms of disease. Glasses specially adapted in youth to those requiring them save and preserve the sight.

Constantly recurring headaches, spells of dizziness when reading, weak eyes, the lenses running together, any of these symptoms indicate a deficiency in the form of the eye requiring Glasses only to correct and cure.

Mr. LAZARUS supplies his SPECTACLES only after testing the sight.
